We can provide you with different levels of service:

Basic Service: Basic level gives food suppliers a certified registered agent as required by the Food & Drug administration (US bio-terrorism act) . We will provide your registration number and keep you in compliance.

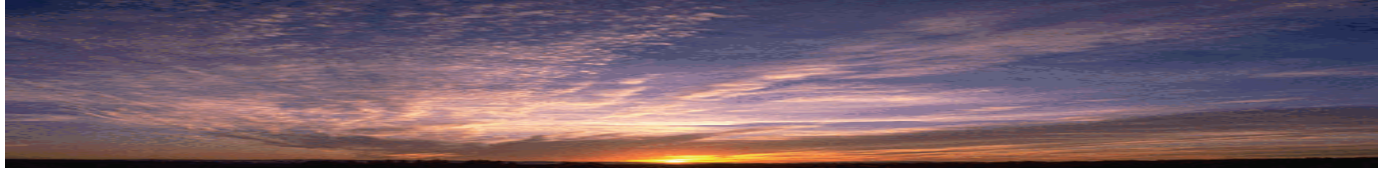

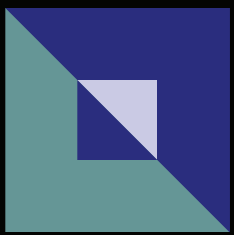

Gold Service: V-MAXX will provide a US address and phone number. Your mail and messages will be forwarded to the home office. This will give your company an international appeal and has your new customers dealing with a “local” company.

Platinum Service: This package creates your official overseas distributor. V-MAXX can act as your product representative and handle all direct contact with your new customers. Our ability to stock items will provide an excellent opportunity to provide service to your new customers the way you are used to.

Off course we will cater any combination of services to your needs.

Tell us know how your company may be best served and we will custom design our service package to suit you!
